From: Maks Zuch maks.zuch.1@gmail.com
Subject: art i like now
Date: 2 June 2026 at 02:02
To: makssresearch@gmail.com

i have started making this list of artists/artworks that i found or remembered about recently. i add a little text to some of them. (sometimes i am looking for these two perspectives when looking at art: art as devotion/religion; contemporary spiritual art.)

felix gonzalez torres - "Untitled" (Perfect Lovers) one of my all-time favourites that i always come back to on kawara - I Got Up (1968–79) (https://www.guggenheim.org/teaching-materials/on-kawara-silence/postcards-i-got-up) amazing!! perfect idea. everyday art with some kind of poeticism. need to know more about him <

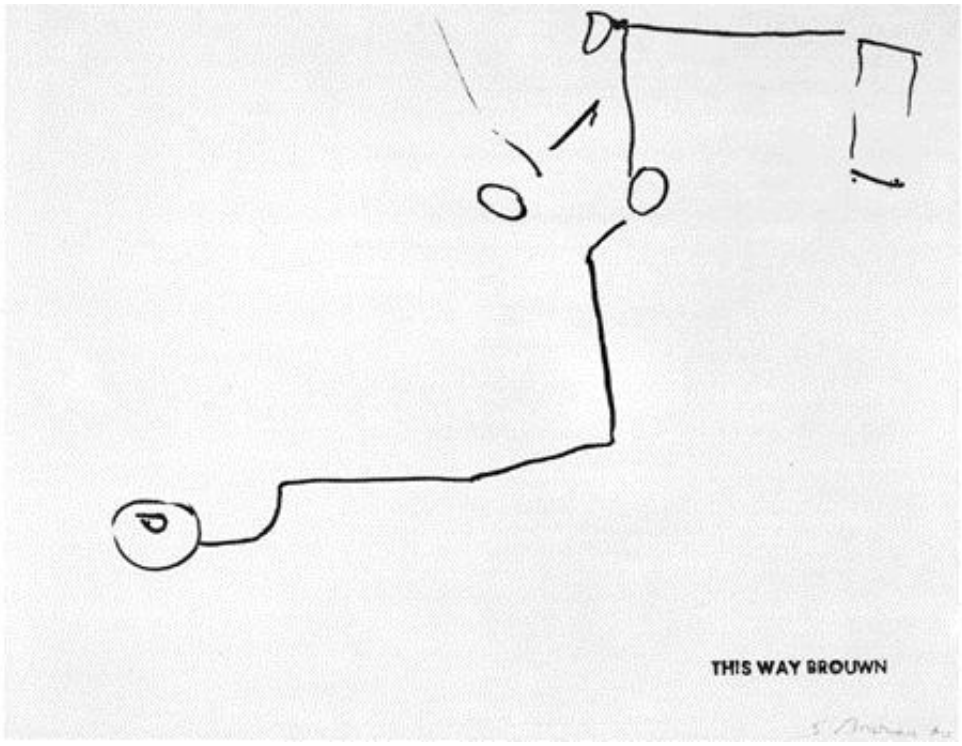

The Unicorn Horn in the White Circle by James Lee Byars
so magical realism

Sophie Calle - The Sleepers
she had all of these great ideas for an artwork that creates stories! max bought her book for hilke for her birthday when he was in berlin. this was the first time i saw her work. more<

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=e-_92MYcANk Wolfgang Laib got recommended to me by enrico. on the topic of routines and sacred art.

stanley brouwn - This Way Brouwn here i also enjoy this everyday aspect of it

Hilma af Klint, always good to see her

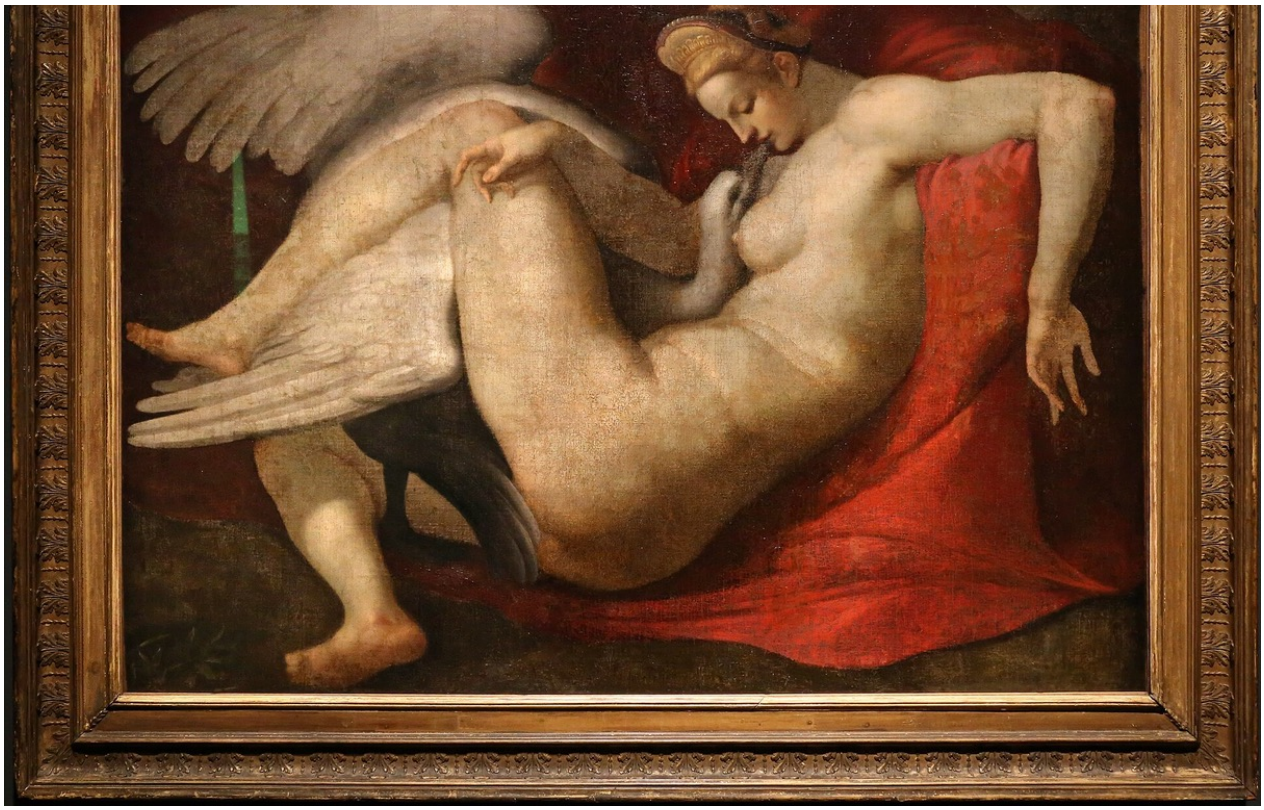

Francis Alÿs - Faith Moves Mountains (2002) Lima, Peru (https://www.moma.org/collection/works/109922) great! love his work overall, creating so many magical realism scenarios. <

Planet Set, Tête Etoilée, Giuditta Pasta (dédicace) 1950, Joseph Cornell found him when i was bored douring class, maybe i will make a box with my stuff <

Leda and the Swan (Michelangelo) some classics. nice composition

Sacrifice of Isaac (Caravaggio) another classic, and good composition too

Don’t Look Back 1999, Fiona Banner when i was looking for some paintings with text on them.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ljC-un_kbCI&list=PLEA03823682E26C80&index=4 Żwirek i Muchomorek, this animation brought a lot of magic to me when i was younger; my brother had the same thoughts when i asked him if he remembers it.

i saw this painting at an exhibition of a person listening to a voice note on the bus. i wanna make a painting of a voice note too! < also, i wanna make a painting with this video in the background: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sTOw6zRvfsg , maybe while i play chess on my phone on the couch. <

Bas Jan Ader
two weekends ago on friday we were sitting in kult with max, pargol and hannah. we started playing this game where you are a person and ask yes or no questions to guess who you are. i was bas jan ader, but I didn't know him that well, so i lost. then i started reading more about him, and got very into his work (type of art that you can tell stories about). i wonder if he really got lost at sea or just decided to do something else in his life. I think he died, but it would be cool if not.

also this is great - https://www.meliksetianbriggs.com/exhibitions/bas-jan-ader3

Mierle Laderman Ukeles
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WIhf3UBNTIA this type of art makes me feel better about always being so busy with the everyday maintenance I have to do in my life. great example of every day art!

> i wanna look soon at some more paintings, to have some good inspirations to paint more anthony cudahy
Edouard Vuillard
Jennifer Packer
Sasha Gordon
for starters