From: Maks Zuch maks.zuch.1@gmail.com Subject: Re: curse of archiving (3) Date: 3 June 2026 at 14:28
To: makssresearch@gmail.com this is from springtime glowing flowers in the park when i was fixing this bike i found in amsterdam, i realised all of my tools and my bike are in the same colour scheme photo i made of isa when she was visiting; she looks beautiful!

the hanger on my door broke when max hung his coat on it after we came back from a night out. we left it there till the morning. a little guard guarding us all night documenting that the copy of my bike is still there!

a second copy of my bike i saw a few days after i really like to see a street vertically sometimes way back from amsterdam this cat i spying on me all the time when i am in my room i like the composition of this movie poster and that’s it for now. the last photos are from the end of april, so i need to continue the archive from there soon

yours,